

The WIESTWORLD Chat-Blog Community Charter

With every social endeavor we need to establish a code of conduct. When we are in person one-on-one or as a group of humans of any size—as we have for centuries—there is an unspoken agreement among civil folk to treat each other in a certain way. Here we shall do so with respect and courtesy—no matter if we are having a disagreement, or laughing, flirting, discussing flubdubbery, telling tall tales, gossiping, reporting the news, performing skits, concerts, presentations, discussing weighty world matters, or formulating great ideas: when we communicate here we need to have a basepoint foundation of interaction. The following is our code of conduct here in WIESTWORLD:

Treat each other with respect. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

(I didn't make that one up folks!)

How do we do this? Here are some helpful bullet points:

- Communicate with courtesy
- LISTEN to what someone says BEFORE answering
- Love whenever possible...it is ALWAYS possible
- Don't try to sell anything unless someone ASKS you first
- Don't dole out unsolicited advice...wait until someone ASKS you for advice
- Don't accuse each other of ANYTHING... unless it is a compliment
- Never assume or judge ANYONE...EVER.
- Always be open-minded (in doing so—we just might LEARN something! ☺)
- Share cool pictures, GIFS, or videos with your comments, make your post fun to see as well as read
- Share your music, art, craft, prose, poetry, ANY creation please!
- DO NOT come here as a “business opportunity” NO solicitations will be allowed
- There are NO algorithms here...don't even try to add or apply them! I have secret behind-the-scenes protocols in place on this website that you simply do NOT want to trigger! Am I being facetious? I wouldn't test it... just sayin'.
- No bots allowed
- No buying or selling of ANY personal information is allowed by myself or ANYONE
- Send me an email with other suggestions as they develop: zoon.eejazz@gmail.com
- Have FUN and enjoy the NOW. Life is grand indeed!!!

Failure to do ANY of the above will result in the termination of your membership and your access to this community. So...BE COOL Y'ALL!
